

The theatrical Event WG report on an intermediate conference in Stockholm, April 2023

The Theatrical Event WG had a 3-days intermediate meeting in Stockholm in April 2023, that was devoted to the developed papers from Galway and Reykjavik towards a proposal for a book. They were discussed for further development and cross references between them were pointed out. The papers were structured in three sections, and possible introductions to the book and its sections were discussed. During the meeting, an election of an editorial committee for the proposed book was carried out. Eleven members attended the meeting in person and four on Zoom.

The editorial committee met on zoom in mid-June and finalized the book proposal for the serial "Themes in Theatre, New directions in International Theatre and Performance" (Bril), which were sent in to IFTR's editorial committee. The proposed title is "Taking Centre Stage: Theatre for Young Audiences, Theatre with Students and Amateur Theatre".